

World Environment Day celebrated at ICAR-NRC on Yak, Dirang

The World Environment Day has been celebrated at ICAR -NRC on Yak, Dirang on 5th June, 2020 with a plantation programme conducted in the residential campus of the institute and a general meeting arranged on the occasion in the Auditorium of the institute. All the staff and employees of the institute participated in both the programmes. Dr. V. Paul, Pr. Scientist, Animal Physiology made a special deliberation on the theme of the world environment day "Time for Nature" and elaborated on maintenance of clean environment, particularly in reference to present COVID19 pandemic. Dr. D Medhi, Senior Scientist, Animal Nutrition, also spoke on the occasion. Dr. P. Chakravarty, Director(A), while appreciating the participants for their efforts in maintaining clean environment in their residential as well as in office campus, highlighted the necessities to continues the measures being undertaken for containment of COVID19 and avoiding use of plastic for personal and official purposes in the campuses. Dr. J. Bam, Scientist, Veterinary Parasitology, on her proposing vote of thanks also emphasized on awareness, and the need to remain supportive to different approaches adopted by the government agencies towards maintenance of a clean environment. Earlier Mr. N. Khochilu, AAO, ICAR-NRC on Yak, welcomed the participants for the meeting arranged on the occasion.

Plantation in progress

Director speaking on the occasion

A view of the Audience