

ICAR-NRCY in Collaboration with ICAR-NINFET organized one day workshop on “Commercialization of Yak Based Products”

Dirang, March 17, 2022:

ICAR-National Research Centre on Yak in collaboration with ICAR-National Institute of Natural Fibre Engineering and Technology, Kolkata organized an one day workshop on “Commercialization of Yak Based Products” at Dirang on March, 2022.

Dr. D. Medhi, PS, ICAR-NRCY welcomed all the participants and brief about the workshop. Dr. M. Sarkar, Director of ICAR-NRC on Yak in his concluding remarks told about the scope of Yak based products for its commercialization. Gracing the occasion as Chief Guest Dr. D. B. Shakywar, Director, and ICAR-NINFET told on prospects of yak fibres and its opportunity to develop entrepreneurships.

In the technical session two lectures was followed by an interactive session. In the first lecture Dr. Medhi told about the prospects of yak based technologies and its commercialization. After interactive session Dr. A. N. Roy, PS, ICAR-NINFET enlightened the participants through his lecture on Problems and prospects of business in yak fibre based products. The participants were very much interested in interactive session. The showcasing of technologies & hands on practical was carried out in post lunch session in the laboratory of the Institute. Mr. Dorjee Phunsto, Joint Director, Department of Textile and Handicraft, Arunachal Pradesh act as Guest of Honor’s in the function.

Seventy (76) participants including two Development Officer of Textile & Handicrafts were participated in the workshop.

